What Fish and her name: Carol Hegeman

In the 1970s, Carol Hegeman was a prominent figure in the women's rights movement. She was a founding member of the National Women's Political Caucus and co-founder of the National Women's Political Caucus. She was also a key figure in the feminist movement, advocating for women's rights and equality.

dated reading of shops

If you're interested in learning more about women's rights, you might consider reading "The Feminine Mystique," a book by Betty Friedan. It is considered one of the most important works in the women's rights movement.

Transition students joined the march for women's rights in Ukraine

Recently, a group of transition students from a local high school joined a march for women's rights in Ukraine. The students were calling for an end to violence against women and for greater equality in the country.

Dana Milbank drops by Author Dana Milbank dropped in on the staff at the Lighthouse of the Blind on Friday. She was there to discuss her new book, "Music Under the Stars." Milbank is a well-known journalist and author, and her book is a collection of stories about her travels around the world.

Lighthouse of the Blind

The Lighthouse of the Blind is a local nonprofit organization dedicated to helping the blind and visually impaired. They offer a range of services, including assistance with employment, education, and daily living skills.

Music Under the Stars

"Music Under the Stars" is a concert series that takes place at the Lighthouse of the Blind. The concerts feature local musicians and are open to the public. They are a great way to support the Lighthouse and enjoy some great music.