Consul General of Japan visits Miami Lighthouse

Miami's Consul General of Japan, Kazuhiro Nakai, along with Miami Lighthouse Board Director Rodrick Miller toured our facility and witnessed firsthand how we transform the lives of blind babies to seniors. Our Social Group Activities Program presented a special Japanese Flag on canvas with Braille, spelling out 'Japan' and Board Director Miller performed on piano with our Music Instructor Oman Pedreira.

We thank Consul General of Japan, Kazuhiro Nakai, and attaché Kenichiro Irisawa for taking the time to visit with us.

Miami Lighthouse welcomes new Guide Dog Sama

CEO Virginia Jacko walks with new guide dog Sama

The entire staff of Miami Lighthouse recently welcomed Sama, CEO Virginia Jacko's amazing new Guide Dog. Sama, much like all of Virginia's incredible guide dogs, was raised by Guiding Eyes for the Blind (GEB). Guide dogs train for two years, then are allowed to work as guides for seven years before they must be retired.

Sama, a magnificent black lab with a wonderful calm temperament, hears Virginia say "let's go" and she is ready for work. According to Virginia, Sama rests under her desk at Miami Lighthouse as she has been taught "office training" by Dave Hagemann, the GEB's Guide Dog Mobility Instructor. At a recent Comcast luncheon to meet the U.S. Commissioner of the FCC, Sama was a perfect guest, never sniffing, staying calmly at Virginia's side, ready to go when she hears the command.

Virginia thanks the entire GEB team for her gift of mobility. "Sama's ability to guide me through doorways, to find the elevator, to safely get me around obstacles, as well as the love she gives me, comes directly from the training by the GEB team, particularly Puppy Raiser Jane Santy and her husband Tony.
